BEST BET: Race 4 - #3 Rainfall

This hard-knocking filly is 4-for-4 in the money since moving to the barn of Armando De la cerda, and has been very consistent despite the fact that she has not be able to get a win yet for this barn. She was beaten as the favorite last time out, but gets her claiming tag sliced in half today. She looks tactical, and might have the edge over what she faces today.

LONGSHOT: Race 1 - #6 Diamond Bachelor

Admittedly, it's been a long time since Diamond Bachelor has seen the winners circle. However, he is getting a drop in class today, and recently has proved to still be competitive in stakes company on both turf and dirt. Perhaps running for a lesser level will help him gain some confidence back and get a win under his belt. He also gets in light with Romero Maragh once again picking up the mount.
