

RACE BY RACE ANALYSIS

By Acacia Courtney

Friday, February 23, 2018

RACE 1:

6 – Indian Chaser
8 – A J's Amex
4 – Boston Mine

SELECTIONS: 6-8-4-3

RACE 2:

2 – Sipmychardonnaynae
3 – Adosinda
1 – Schmiss

SELECTIONS: 2-3-1-7

RACE 3:

6 – Downrange
7 – Hard Way Winner
1 – Fortune Cookier

SELECTIONS: 6-7-1-4

RACE 4:

4 – Candy Asset
6 – Bold daddy
7 – Little No Way

SELECTIONS: 4-6-7-5

RACE 5:

3 – Impressive Edge
2 – Realm
4 – Abounding Legacy

SELECTIONS: 3-2-4-5

RACE 6:

1 – Coleman Rocky
5 – In His Image
6 – Wishfully

SELECTIONS: 1-5-6-8

RACE 7:

3 – Burke's Garden
2 – Gran Letizia
7 – Classy Dancer

SELECTIONS: 3-2-7-4

RACE 8:

1 – Starship Zodiac
6 – So Fresh
7 – Nocatee

SELECTIONS: 1-6-7-4

RACE 9:

6 – Going to the Beach
8 – Bakelite
7 – Spring Joy

SELECTIONS: 6-8-7-9

RACE 10:

2 – Lido
5 – My Sistersledge
3 – Noble Ready

SELECTIONS: 2-5-3-6

RACE 11:

4 – Masquerader
10 – Jailhouse Kitten
5 – Manhatta Project

SELECTIONS: 4-10-5-9

BEST BET: Race 6 - #1 Coleman Rocky

I know this colt has some dirtied up form, but he also has a lot of back class and is first off the claim for trainer Jason Servis, who is 43% on the turf with this move over the past 5 years. The most recent race is a throughout, since he clipped heels at the start, and prior to that he was facing much tougher. I'm also really interested to see him sprint, as I think it might suit this son of Harlan's Holiday.

LONGSHOT: Race 8 - #7 Nocatee

There are quite a few questions to be answered in this race, and I think that could leave room for a nicely priced horse to do well. Nocatee ran solidly in her debut against a tough field, and she had a bit of trouble at the break. Making her second career start, she comes in off of a very quick work over the main track and should sit a good trip in a race where there looks to be plenty of potential speed.