

RACE BY RACE ANALYSIS

By Acacia Courtney

Friday, March 16, 2018

RACE 1:

2 – Bird of Peace
5 – Honey Hearts
6 – Bright Venezuelan

SELECTIONS: 2-5-6-9

RACE 2:

1 – Untrue
5 – A J's Amex
4 – Majestic Kindness

SELECTIONS: 1-5-4-3

RACE 3:

3 – Bullet Theblue Sky
4 – Llamame
6 – Little Queen

SELECTIONS: 3-4-6-1

RACE 4:

6 – Fire Mission
2 – Griff
3 – Shaft of Light

SELECTIONS: 6-2-3-5

RACE 5:

3 – Hyatt's Dude
5 – Rory
7 – Caught

SELECTIONS: 3-5-7-1

RACE 6:

6 – Pure One
3 – Smarty Smart
9 – Tropicality

SELECTIONS: 6-3-9-8

RACE 7:

5 – Nonsuch
8 – Flying Liberty
4 – Royal Holiday

SELECTIONS: 5-8-4-6

RACE 8:

1 – The General's Wind
4 – Somedreamscometrue
8 – Fullback Foye

SELECTIONS: 1-4-8-3

RACE 9:

8 – Raining Lemons
1 – Havana Affair
2 – Furiosa

SELECTIONS: 8-1-2-9

RACE 10:

2 – Frostmourne
1 – Profiteer
5 – Hockey School

SELECTIONS: 2-1-5-4

RACE 11:

5 – Lunaire
4 – Sinatra
9 – Adonis Creed (Fr)

SELECTIONS: 5-4-9-10

BEST BET: Race 3 - #3 Bullet Theblue Sky

The most recent start for this filly by Sky Conqueror does not exactly look pretty on paper, as she was a well-beaten third, but I do think the stretch out in distance will help her today. In addition, she had some trouble at the start of the race last time out, and is now second off the claim for trainer Angel Rodriguez, whose barn has been going great lately. She also keeps the hot-riding Luis Saez aboard.

LONGSHOT: Race 10 - #5 Hockey School

This horse will not be the lone speed in here, as Nileator and Conquest Enforcer are also quick out of the gate. However, Hockey School has shown in the past that he has the ability to rate, and that is actually the running style he displayed when he got his last victory. Picking up jockey Javier Castellano again, he comes out of a race where he faced some very tough horses and got tired after extending a two length lead in the early part of the race.