BEST BET: Race 5 - #4 Untruthful Sonnet

After having a go at the dirt two starts back, the connections tried to get this filly back on the turf last time out, but unfortunately it was rained off. Her prior turf races were against significantly tougher competition, and the breeding is there to suggest she'd prefer the grass. She's taken a few starts to get the hang of things, but Armando De la Cerda seems to have her spotted perfectly.

LONGSHOT: Race 1 - #9 Contraction

Third off the layoff and the right kind of trip seemed to do the trick for Contraction last time out, who get the maiden win as the favorite after a brutal trip two starts back. He's facing winners for the first time here, but several of the potential favorites have their own fair share of questions, and he has a nice closing kick with an outside post.
