

RACE BY RACE ANALYSIS

By Acacia Courtney

Saturday, April 29, 2017

RACE 1:

7 – Toast the Kitten
1 – Wonder Frolic
4 – Road Warrior Max
SELECTIONS: 7-1-4-8

RACE 2:

3 – Little Awesome
6 – All About Diva
7 – Zachary's Pitch
SELECTIONS: 3-6-7-2

RACE 3:

5 – Woodburn
1 – Lemon Royal
2 – River Running
SELECTIONS: 5-1-2-4

RACE 4:

5 – Blind Ambition
4 – Fortythreeoeight N
1 – Wave On Wave
SELECTIONS: 5-4-1-3

RACE 5:

2 – War Correspondent
5 – All Included
4 – Our Way
SELECTIONS: 2-5-4-3

RACE 6:

8 – Chivalrous
10 – Regal Kitten
4 – Not Today
SELECTIONS: 8-10-4-7

RACE 7:

3 – Crowning Affair
4 – Indian Chaser
2 – Eva London
SELECTIONS: 3-4-2-5

RACE 8:

6 – Flag Officer
1 – King Mauro
5 – Editorial
SELECTIONS: 6-1-5-8

RACE 9:

1 – Blackjack Baby
9 – Federal Reserve
3 – Policy Portfolio
SELECTIONS: 1-9-3-7

RACE 10:

6 – Stormy Victoria (Fr)
11 – Inside Out
7 – Liberty Kitten
SELECTIONS: 6-11-7-10

RACE 11:

7 – Campaigner's Gold
5 – Cousin Tino
8 – Il Nonno
SELECTIONS: 7-5-8-9

BEST BET: Race 3: #5 Woodburn

The main foe for Woodburn in this race is of course the class-dropping Lemon Royal to the rail, but his most recent start was impressive enough to make me give Woodburn another try. Stretching out in distance today to the mile (where he broke his maiden), I expect Woodburn to show some more speed from the outside and to keep improving now that he is third off the layoff.

LONGSHOT: Race 10: #5 Temple Fur

An upset winner of the Mary Todd two starts back when closing wide, Temple Fur did not match up when facing tougher company in the G3 Orchid last time out. That was going 1 3/8 miles, and I like the cutback in distance for her, as she is 3-for-5 at the mile. Her tactical running style should serve her well, too.