BEST BET: Race 5 - #8 Golden Point

After scratching out of a similar race on Thursday to run here instead, Golden Point looks very strong in this spot. Since the addition of blinkers, his last two races have been very good and make him a clear standout on paper. He has more of a grinding running style, but should have a bit of pace to chase.

LONGSHOT: Race 7 - #7 Beneficiary

While the #1 horse in this race, Kroy, is sure to be a relatively short price, the horse that finished just ahead of him will be much bigger odds. Beneficiary finished second with a huge closing kick last time out. He is not the most consistent horse, but can't be ignored after that effort and a 15-1 morning line.
