BEST BET: Race 6 - #6 Fort Liberty

The stretch out in distance to a mile didn't work out last time, but this colt is back sprinting, where he is clearly most comfortable. He has made a great physical appearance in his two starts of the layoff, and now, third off the bench and with a drop in class to the maiden claiming ranks, he should be ready to roll.

LONGSHOT: Race 5 - #5 Hopetown

Since adding blinkers and shipping to Gulfstream, Hopetown has had two solid races. As a longshot two starts back, he was second to Chasing the Dream, who's also in this field and will probably be a shorter price. Hopetown followed that up with his own win. Facing winners for the first time, he does meet some others with questionable form and is worth a second look at a price.
