BEST BET: Race 9 - #1 Adirondack King

Trainer John Servis has been having an excellent year, already batting around 20% and having a lot of success at Gulfstream. Adirondack King is the class of the field based off of the company that he has faced, running fourth behind the likes of Stanford last out in stakes competition. Additionally, he stands out on numbers, earning Beyer Speed Figures of 91 and 95 in his last two starts, respectively. Now third off the layoff, this horse can sit a perfect stalking trip from the rail post position.

LONGSHOT: Race 5 - #7 Bitacora

The Chad Brown runner Stella Street promises to take all the money in this race, and this vulnerable favorite makes the rest of the field a wide open betting race. Bitacora broke her maiden with impressive grit at a big price back in August, and shortly thereafter followed that up with a huge run to be second in the Wait a While Stakes on a sloppy track. After facing the likes of graded stakes winners Dream Dancing and Fifty Five in her subsequent starts, she gets a significant drop in class today.
