BEST BET: Race #9 Go Noni Go

Since moving to the barn of Mike Maker, this filly has faced tougher competition, including running in stakes competition twice. Although a bit unsettled last out, she race a very good second at Aqueduct in good allowance company. In for the $75,000 tag, her running style should make her very competitive here, along with her experience.

LONGSHOT: Race 10 - #3 Stroll Action

Making her first start for trainer Luis Duco, this filly has some speed and some turf pedigree on the bottom side. I like that she takes a drop in class for her Gulfstream debut, as I feel she fits with these contenders, and will be a price. The dam won on turf, as did three of her siblings, including G3 placed Putmeinyourwill and multiple stakes placed Bowers Got Hours.
