BEST BET: Race 6 - #4 Dizzy Gillespie

Following the past couple of days at Gulfstream Park, it looks like the main track is a bit deeper and more tiring, and thus a fit horse, and especially one with tactical speed, is key. Dizzy Gillespie ran a solid third in starter allowance company last time out at Gulfstream Park West, and so is getting some class relief today. He also picks up leading jock Luis Saez, and I think he should sit the perfect trip.

LONGSHOT: Race 8 - #2 Mr. Edgar

At 20-1 on the morning line, this colt really interests me at a nice price. His most recent start was on the turf, and while the dirt clearly is his preferred surface, that last race proved to be a key race with three next out winners, one of them, Seismic Jolt, switching to the main track. Leonel Reyes has ridden this colt in both of his races so far, and I think is a very talented rider that may fly under the radar. In addition, this horse is able to come from off the pace and is well posted to the outside to get a good trip in here.
