BEST BET: Race 4 - #1 Gotsomemojo

First off the claim for trainer Angel Rodriguez, switching back to the dirt, and adding blinkers, Gotsomemojo is getting a lot of changes, but it looks like that will be to his benefit. This kind of surface switch right after the claim is not a common move for the barn, but they have had a great deal of success, plus Tyler Gaffalione will have the call.

LONGSHOT: Race 10 - #6 Mr Atila

The most experienced horse in the field, Mr Atila has started to rack up the defeats after five races still in the maiden ranks. However, his most recent outing was his strongest yet, finishing a good second to the Pletcher runner Al Khor. Getting a jockey change today to Emisael Jaramillo, this half-brother to Uncle Lino should be a good price in here.
