BEST BET: Race 4 - #7 Coronado Again

While this horse has been a little inconsistent lately, one thing that can be counted on is his early speed. The blinkers come off today and, more importantly, he gets a drop in class after a good 4th against tougher last out at GPW.

LONGSHOT: Race 3 - #5 Great Skellig

If you put a line through that most recent off-the-turf race, this gelding has very strong form to work with. Unfortunately, he was scratched multiple times prior to that last race due to weather conditions, and I think now that he has a race underneath him, he should be able to move forward. Especially on his preferred surface.
