BEST BET: Race 1 - #5 Luckbe Tanya

Now making her second start off the claim for trainer Victor Barboza Jr. (who has incredible numbers with this kind of move, batting at 43% with horses in the money last out), Luckbe Tanya looks primed. Her last few races have been close, and hopefully making her second start for this barn will help her take that step forward. She’s also had a little bit of a freshening, and the horse that beat her came back to win again with a 79 Beyer Speed Figure.

LONGSHOT: Race 9 - #7 Drinks on Maggie

After breaking sharply in a big field, this filly had to take up sharply at a critical point in the race. After that she was very wide off the final turn and never got a chance to make a run against a group that I think was tougher than what she faces today. She had an excellent work over the Palm Meadows turf course since her last race, and she’ll be a nice price.
