BEST BET: Race 10 - #8 Mybigitalianfriend

After a big layoff and moving from the barn of Chad Brown (never easy) this horse delivered an absolutely explosive performance last time out to break her maiden in an off the turf event. Since she's run so well on the main track, the connections opt to keep her on the dirt and she comes off of a 91 Beyer Speed Figure performance. Even if she delivers a fraction of what she's shown to be capable of, she should just lay over this field.

LONGSHOT: Race 7 - #4 Tuesday's Rose

Second off the layoff and second off the claim should be key for this mare. She hadn't raced in about ten months when we saw her return to the racetrack last time out, where she ran a very good third at a big price in her first start since moving to the barn of trainer Juan Avila. The blinkers go on today and she picks up jockey Paco Lopez.
