BEST BET: Race 3 - #5 Threat

The last victory for this Kantharos filly came at this level, and it looks like the drop in class here will be key. After facing much tougher in her most recent outing and finding a sloppy track two back, it looks like Threat is finally in a good spot. Though she promises to be a short price, she's absolutely the one to beat.

LONGSHOT: Race 8 - #3 Giant's Voice

The last two races for Giant's Voice have not been pretty since he moved into the Angel Quiroz barn, but there are a few good things to note at the juicy morning line price of 20-1. He encountered a sloppy track off the turf two back, and today gets a notable jockey change to Emisael Jaramillo. There's reason to believe he'll show more of the natural early speed he did at the start of his career, and, perhaps most importantly, he'll be making his first start as a gelding.
