BEST BET: Race 2 - #6 Talkback
While there is some other speed present in this race, I do think that this filly is a standout given the quality of competition that she has been facing. She gets a drop in class and returns from a slight freshening, which included a brief return to GoldMark Farm for continued training. Directly to her outside, Shall Return has been in top form, but needs to take a jump up in class and achieve the difficult feat of three wins in a row. Her weaknesses could be one of the biggest strengths for Talkback.

RACE 9:
7 - South West Bay (GB)
1 - Chandler’s Drama
11 - Hard Count
SELECTIONS: 7-1-11-4

LONGSHOT: Race 7 - #9 Learn Story (Dom)
This Dominican-bred horse has been a fun one to root for since coming to the United States, and proved last time out that she can be competitive on the turf. She gets another slight stretch out in distance, and it looks like she really appreciated the two turns last time out, given her good second place finish. She is tactical and has been freshened since her last race on May 12.
