BEST BET: Race 8 - #7 Untrue

This mare has been ultra consistent, and has certainly shown before the she can put back-to-back wins together. Here, it looks like she should be able to dictate the pace, and while a couple others do seem to like to be forwardly placed, it doesn't look like anyone else is as fast as her early. Trainer Armando de la cerda has kept her in top-notch form, and she looks now to add yet another win to her already impressive record since moving to this barn.

LONGSHOT: Race 2 - #6 Fast Fire

Although "just" a $10,000 claiming event, we know these races on the turf here at Gulfstream can be absolute wars. Fast Fire is coming out of a very good third place finish last time out against tough competition, and he had a win two starts back. He's going to be one running late in this race, and while his wins may be few, he has been very consistent and good at picking up checks. I think at a nice price he can grab a piece in here at the very least, if not win the whole thing.
