BEST BET: Race 2 - #6 Put the Boss Back

He's beat the other main contender in here, Flying Rocket, the last time they met, but most importantly, Put the Boss Back looks like he has the potential to be the controlling speed. His last two races at this distance were incredibly strong, and he also looks comfortable at this level against some others who have questions.

LONGSHOT: Race 8 - #6 Cookies Are Good

In a race that does appear to have a good amount of speed signed on, Cookies Are Good has the running style to be successful, and at a price. While coming off a disappointing effort as the favorite, it was on a sealed sloppy track – a surface that he's clearly not fond of. He's faced tougher in the past and should be live today.
