BEST BET: Race 8 - #7 Sammie Sunshine

This filly will likely be a very short price, despite the fact that she is stepping up in class, but she has been so consistent lately. Sammie Sunshine won her last two by open lengths, and is now making her first start off the claim for Gilberto Zerpa, who has very strong numbers with this move. She also gets Emisael Jaramillo in the saddle, and this trainer-jockey combo is around 42% at Gulfstream for this year. She should be able to dictate the pace from the outside.

LONGSHOT: Race 5 - #8 Wanda Girl

The drop in class should be key for this filly who is coming off a slight freshening since the first week of July. She is tactical, and can be forgiven for her race position last time out since she broke out at the start. She had a victory against $25k claiming company two starts back at big price, and this level of $16k is truly where she belongs. She's been working well leading up to this race.
