BEST BET: Race 7 - #8 Paint the Corners

This mare had a game victory last time out at Gulfstream Park West, and looks like she will be tough again today. She has tactic speed, and is now second off the layoff for trainer Jorge Navarro. In addition, I think she meets the right kind of field today to make it two wins in a row, as she has been very consistent and impressive.

LONGSHOT: Race 9 - #1 She's Right Again

On paper, it appears that this race is lacking in early speed, and I can envision a scenario in which She's Right Again sends from the inside post and never looks back. The Nagle barn is one that often flies beneath the radar but does a good job and can yield some high paying winners. This horse won nicely last time out at Tampa, and has Beyer Speed Figures that absolutely put her in the mix.
