BEST BET: Race 3: #3 Little Shade

After dropping class from stakes competition for a mid-level claiming spot, Little Shade delivered a huge performance last time out. She wore blinkers earlier in her career, and the shades will go back on today. She has plenty of natural speed and should be able to use that to her advantage.

LONGSHOT: Race 2: #6 Sir Charles

Shipping in from Fair Grounds, Sir Charles showed speed and then stopped last time out against much tougher competition. Now with one local race under his belt, a significant jockey change to Emisael Jaramillo, and some much needed class relief, he should be in a good spot. This colt has plenty of early speed to offer.
