BEST BET: Race 6 - #2 Stellamattutina
The only two time winner in the field, this filly has been very impressive in her young career. Even though she debuted in a maiden claiming field, she won at first asking by nearly 8 lengths and then backed that up with a game 2nd place finish on a sloppy track. Winning against open competition last time pushed her to the next level.

LONGSHOT: Race 5 - #3 Surprising Twist
This filly has the advantage of a win going 5 furlongs on the turf, and closed very well from off the pace to get the win in her first start for this barn. Today, she will try to make it two in a row in a wide open field, and picks up jockey Edgard Zayas. In addition she had a very sharp work on the GP main track, going 5 furlongs in under a minute.
