

JASON BLEWITT'S

Race Analysis

Saturday, November 10, 2018

RACE 1: 5 – 6 – 7 – 2

RACE 2: 7 – 4 – 3 – 5

RACE 3: 4 – 8 – 6 – 2

RACE 4: 3 – 1 – 2 – 4

RACE 5: 4 – 3 – 1 – 7

RACE 6: 7 – 4 – 9 – 10

RACE 7: 2 – 4 – 6 – 9

RACE 8: 3 – 2 – 9 – 6

RACE 9: 9 – 5 – 8 – 4

RACE 10: 3 – 8 – 1 – 7

RACE 11: 11 – 2 – 4 – 6

GPW, Day 30: Saturday's Gulfstream West program is filled to the brim with stakes races. With nine stakes total – each one designed as an important local dress rehearsal for Gulfstream Park's January 19th Sunshine Millions – Saturday's card is a perfect appetizer for what's to come. Yes, the primetime Gulfstream Park Championship Meet begins just three weeks from now on Saturday, December 1st. There are a number of very talented Florida-breds running Saturday afternoon; you can forget any post Breeders' Cup doldrums here in South Florida! My favorite race, however, might just be the Millions Sprint Preview in race 2. Here's a little info as to how I see this six-furlong dirt dash potentially playing out. The Millions Sprint Preview is likely to break one of two ways: Midwest Thoroughbreds, who sits pretty with both Quijote and Kroy, dominates. Or, the vastly improved Field Trip, riding a big-time three-race win streak, with some fast speed figures to boot, pulls off a mild upset for trainer Henry Collazo. Kroy is a talented "switch hitter" that hits hard on both dirt and turf. He is, however, an unknown at Saturday's six-furlong distance. Quijote won this race a year ago, went off form for a good chunk of '18 and then rebounded suddenly with a powerful optional claiming victory (over a sloppy track) last month at GPW.

Stakes-Heavy Saturday 5s: Quality abounds throughout Saturday's 11-race GPW card – remember that first post is a little after noon – and so does opportunity. In fact, I am going to try and get a little lucky early on with a $24 early Pick 5 play. Key rematches appear often between legitimately talented horses like Archer Road and Galleon Mast in race 1, the Millions Turf Preview.

R1: 5,6 -Big fan of both turf horses here; Galleon Mast has GPW turf experience

R2: 4,7 -Midwest holds an insanely strong hand in the Millions Sprint Preview

R3: 4,6,8 -Opted to go with more coverage here; still think Picara is improving

R4: 3 -He's really come into his own and can control; Mr. Jordan unbeaten here

R5: 3,4 -Another grudge match in a quality Pick 5 sequence; both turn back in distance