Sunday's Are for GPW Maidens

Gulfstream Park West hosts an eight-race Sunday card, a program buoyed by race 4, a $48,000 two-year-old filly maiden special weight at 6.5 furlongs. I'm taking Freezer Burn for the win as this David Fawkes-trained first-time starter faces nine foes beneath jockey Emisael Jaramillo. I love Kantharos as a sire and he's represented here by Freezer Burn, who cost a pretty penny at OBS June – she sold for $87,000 after a sharp two-furlong breeze in 21 seconds flat. Freezer Burn is the first foal from Trippi Honor (Trippi), who won four of 28 starts on-track; all four of her victories occurred in dirt sprints. Fawkes, by the way, has been on a major run on this circuit with 11 winners over the last 30 days. Panarea is by the promising Liam's Map and is probably going to improve off a solid career debut 15 days ago across town at Gulfstream Park. Trained by Antonio Sano, Panarea exits a good try third-place finish behind 19-1 upsetter Tonalist's Shape on September 28th; Panarea is the first filly to return from that 10-horse field. Here's my personal trip note of Panarea: "inside run turn, 3-wide angle above 1/4 pole, no punch stretch." Panarea, based here at Gulfstream Park West, retains jockey Edgard Zayas and will start from stall 3. Trainer Ralph Nicks saddles first-time starter Touch of Nirvana, a Tapiture / Touch Gold filly based over at Gulfstream Park. Like Freezer Burn, she sold at OBS June and brought respectable money with a winning bid of $32,000; Touch of Nirvana worked a furlong in that sale in 10 1/5 seconds. Tapiture is the leading freshman sire in the country with 15 winners through Friday.
