No Sweat in Race 11: Get ready for a lengthy Sunday afternoon at Gulfstream Park with one dozen races and a first post of 12:45 ET. It will take a while to get there but here's hoping the wait for the 11th race-bound Perspire will be worth it. This Brethren filly took a giant positive step forward three weeks ago with a powerful entry-level allowance victory for trainer Stanley Gold. I loved everything about the effort, the figure she received and the fact that it was achieved at Sunday's one mile distance. She's stepping up as far as class is concerned – in fact, this race is a relatively rare second-level allowance / optional claimer around these parts – but I believe the result will ultimately be the same as she looks to improve upon her 3-0-2 record from nine starts. Jockey Jairo Rendon has the mount aboard this Gulfstream Park-based Brethren filly for Arindel. As far as a potential 11th race price goes, fans may want to take a look at the Peter Walder-trained Sophia Is an Angel. This mare by Even the Score will try to follow in the hoof prints of stablemate Baccarat Fashion, who scored a major $49.60 upset allowance victory here Thursday afternoon (for owner Baccarat Racing.) This mare has a bit of potential price-play look to her as she starts with jockey Miguel Vasquez. Oola Gal, the Vesgo-owned Quality Road filly, would be a major win threat if able to replicate something, anything, close to the form she displayed here last summer for trainer Leo Azpurua Jr. Oola Gal's last two races were on turf but her last dirt race came against stakes winner Golden Award.
