BEST BET: Race 7 - #5 Sleek Lynx (GB)

This year's edition of the Melody of Colors looks to be loaded with early speed types. Although this filly is off a layoff, she had a good closing kick and the perfect running style to get a good trip in here. After running well in her debut, she tried G1 company in the Natalma in as a 2-year-old, and then won her first race impressively when sprinting up at Woodbine. I think she has talent, as well as the tactical advantage in this spot.

LONGSHOT: RACE 12 - #2 Shot Tanker (Chi)

Hoping to wrap up the day with a big priced runner, this Chilean-bred horse will certainly be that. He has natural early speed, and will be making his third start in the US, his second on turf in the states. In addition, he will get his claiming tag cut in half. He ran against a very tough field last time out, which included Todd Pletcher's speedy Noble Indy, and I think this is a pretty wide open race today. Marcos Meneses has been riding in good form and bringing the prices home.
