

JASON BLEWITT'S

Race Analysis

Thursday, September 12, 2019

RACE 1: 4 – 8 – 3 – 7

RACE 2: 8 – 2 – 5 – 4

RACE 3: 7 – 8 – 9 – 6

RACE 4: 4 – 6 – 7 – 1

RACE 5: 4 – 6 – 2 – 10

RACE 6: 8 – 10 – 2 – 3

RACE 7: 4 – 9 – 10 – 7

RACE 8: 6 – 2 – 4 – 8

RACE 9: 6 – 4 – 3 – 8

Jackpot Rainbow 6 Carryover:
$1,262,470

'Super' Trouble: Gulfstream Park ushers in a new week of racing with a nine-race Thursday – first post is 1:20 ET. Here's hoping a single lap around the GP turf course yields a decently-priced winner of the opener. For a $20k turf maiden claimer, Thursday's first came up incredibly tough. The race has two potentially key class dipping horses in I Stand Corrected and Macho Mania, both winless in eight career starts. Others, like Fine Spirit and Tiz Luna, have run pretty well for this established 20k claiming tag and are worth a look. In the end, however, the Ralph Nicks-trained Super Monster won me over. Super Monster has yet to factor all that seriously in three races to date but I believe he owns a major bet-back excuse off his last start 26 days ago. The August 17th opener saw Super Monster in for this $20k maiden claiming tag for the first time and things went decent enough, decent until the mid-stretch run that is. Yep, Super Monster found himself jammed between foes – I believe he was about to put in a serious run just as things got hairy – but he ran out of room while blindswitched. Jockey Reylu Gutierrez was forced to check – “snatched up” is more like it – losing any and all chance in the process. The bad luck was significant and I believe Super Monster is worth a look as he returns for Gutierrez and Nicks. Nicks, by the way, has a pretty busy raceday ahead of him this September 12th. Indeed, the Avery, TX native has runners in five of the card's nine races, including blueblood half siblings River Front and Graceful Princess in races 7 and 8. Both were foaled from 2011 Horse of the Year, Havre de Grace; River Front is by the nation's priciest sire, War Front, while Graceful Princess sports the perennial leading, Tapit.